About Me

As a product designer with over than 15 years of experience in the digital field, I have a range of skills based on the knowledge I have acquired in my various roles. These skills give me the ability to better characterize the users and understand their changing needs, in order to design the product accordingly.

In the design process, I build the product after a thorough research that includes a full attention to the UX processes and a pixel perfect in UI, from the beginning till the final product.

My added value as a product designer lies in the ability to challenge the user's relationship with the product, with a genuine understanding of his or her sensibilities and desires.

- Experience with ownership of UX/UI design process.
- Ability to craft a prototypes and motion tools.
- Manage tasks according to set priorities.
- Specialty working directly with developers.
